

GDPR Privacy Notice
Established: May 2018
Update deadline: May 2020

Contents

Introduction and background	3
Your rights	3
Information we collect.....	4
Transfer of data	4
Retention of data.....	4
Automated decision making.....	4
Use of cookies.....	4
Contact details.....	4

Introduction and background

The purpose of this policy is to outline how Conflict Armament Research (CAR) has established measures to protect your privacy and information rights.

Your rights

We recognise that you have rights as a ‘data subject’, and that we have an obligation to uphold these.

This privacy notice aims to outline how we maintain these rights. In particular, it outlines:

- How we collect and process your information
- Why we do this
- How you can exercise your rights;
- Who to contact in the event you’re unhappy with our performance.

Your information rights

Right	Explanation
Right to be informed	This encompasses the obligation for us to be transparent in how we collect and use your personal data.
Right of access	You have the right to access your personal data and supplementary information.
Right to rectification	If the information we hold on you is inaccurate or incomplete, you can request we correct this.
Right to erasure	You can request we delete or remove personal data where there is no compelling reason us to continue processing
Right to restrict processing	You have the right to request we cease processing your data, if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You consider it inaccurate or incomplete; • Where you object to processing and we are considering whether we still have a legitimate interest to process it.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Where we don’t need the data for the original reason we collected it, but may need it to support a legal claim
Right to data portability	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Where you have consented to our processing your data, or where the processing is necessary for us to deliver a contract, you can request a copy of that data be provided to a third party in electronic form.
Right to object	You have the right to object to our processing under certain circumstances. For example, you can object to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • direct marketing (including profiling); and • processing for purposes of scientific/historical research and statistics
Rights relating to automated decision making including profiling	Where we apply automated decision making, we must <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • give you information about the processing; • introduce simple ways for you to request human intervention or challenge a decision; • carry out regular checks to make sure that our systems are working as intended Information related to automated decision making is contained later in this notice.

This privacy notice should outline how we are transparent in our processing. Please get in touch with us through the ‘contact details’ section to find out more or to exercise your information rights.

Information we collect

Please find below a summary of the information we collect and how we use this to deliver services to you.

Information we collect	Why we collect this	How we process this
Title First name Last name Email Contact phone number	This information allows us the best possible means of responding personally to your enquiry.	This data is listed in the automatic email delivered to the admin@conflictarm.com inbox. Emails are permanently deleted once responded to, or once received if no response is necessary. Emails might be forwarded to a relevant staff member to respond. In some cases, emails might be retained by CAR staff if ongoing communication is deemed necessary.

Transfer of data

Only relevant CAR staff will be in possession of your data.

Retention of data

CAR retains information for seven (7) years from our point of last contact. We hold this information to support our legal and regulatory requirements. If you object to this retention, please contact us – details provided in the ‘Contact’ section.

Automated decision making

CAR employs no automated decision-making processes. Only CAR staff will manage your data.

Use of cookies

Like most interactive websites this Company’s website (or ISP) uses cookies to enable us to retrieve user details for each visit. Cookies are used in some areas of our site to enable the functionality of this area and ease of use for those people visiting. Some of our affiliate partners may also use cookies.

Contact details

We recognise that you may have questions on how we process and/or store your data, or may want to change either the data we hold on you or how we communicate with you in the future.

If you have given consent for processing, you are free to withdraw that consent. To let us know this is the case please direct your email to admin@conflictarm.com.

If you have any questions in respect of this notice, or would like to exercise your rights as a data subject (for example, to correct data or to exercise your right to access):

- CAR, as data controller, can be contacted as follows:
admin@conflictarm.com

If you believe we have responded to your query inadequately, or if you have a further complaint, The Information Commissioner’s Office can be contacted via their website <https://ico.org.uk/>.